HOW DOES MODALERT WORK IN THE BRAIN?

Modalert works by influencing multiple neurotransmitter systems at once. It inhibits dopamine reuptake, activates orexin neurons the brain's natural wakefulness switch and elevates norepinephrine levels, delivering hours of clean, crash-free focus.

- Inhibits dopamine reuptake for sustained motivation
- Activates orexin neurons that regulate the sleep-wake cycle
- No dopamine spike like amphetamines zero crash or euphoria
- Single 200mg dose delivers 12 to 15 hours of steady wakefulness
